	EMN NCP Austria	No
	EMN NCP Belgium	Yes	1. No 2. In Belgium the Red Cross offers family tracing, but this is not actively promoted in the detention centers or at the border. The Red Cross is not really present at border crossing points at the Belgian border or in detention centers. However, the ICRC (International Committee of the Red Cross) has access to the Belgian Detention Centers. Their aim is to ensure humane treatment and condition of detention for all detainees, regardless of the reasons for their arrest and detention. They promote the Restoring Family Links (RFL) services to the detention authorities, whenever they visit. The Belgian Red Cross has some projects in detention facilities, such as the guiding of children who are going to visit their mother or father in detention facilities. 3. NA 4. NA

The Bulgarian Red Cross (BRC) is the only national organization of the Red Cross on the territory of the Republic of Bulgaria which is part of the international Red Cross and the Red Crescent. The status and the powers of the organization are regulated in a special law, accepted in 1995. In art.4, para.1, item 7 of the Bulgarian Red Cross Act are regulated the powers of the organization, namely: "item 7 – in compliance with the Geneva conventions of August 12, 1949, the Additional protocols to them of June 8, 1977 and the resolutions of the international conferences of the Red Cross and the Red Crescent search on the territory of the country and out of it for members of families, separated as a result of wars, armed conflicts and natural disasters". In art.5, para.2 in the same Act is mentioned that the obligation of the state institutions in the Republic of Bulgaria is to support the Bulgarian Red Cross when implementing its tasks. In this regard, the Migration Directorate – Mol is bound by the obligation to assist the Bulgarian Red Cross in searching third country nationals (TCNs), indicated by the organization in connection with family reunion. The Bulgarian Red Cross is a key partner of the Migration Directorate in care and support of the accommodated TCNs in the special homes for temporary accommodation of foreigners (detention centers), which are part of the Migration Directorate. The interaction between the Migration Directorate and the Bulgarian Red Cross is regulated on the basis of bilateral agreement. Employees of the Bulgarian Red Cross visit every week the special homes for temporary accommodation of foreigners (SHTAF) to assist TCNs with specific needs by providing humanitarian assistance – sanitary ware, clothes, shoes, specific baby food, and medicines. There is a Bulgarian Red Cross (BRC) group at the Restoring Family Links Service, which is assisted by the International Committee of the Red Cross. The BRC group visits regularly the SHTAF to assist the family reunion by collecting information. The BRC carries out the whole package of activities listed by NCP Lithuania in connection with the searching and family reunion. Detailed information can be found on the website of the organization – www.redcross.bg. 3. There are no challenges in the interaction between the SHTAF and the BRC representatives. Croatian Red Cross is implementing activities in detention centers according to the Agreement with Ministry of Interior that allowing regular visits of this centers (3 centers). In detention centers Croatian Red Cross is providing RFL activities and psychosocial support to all categories of migrants. RFL activities are focused on promotion of the RFL activities and information on measures with the aim to prevent family separation, restoring had maintaining contact between separated family members and searching for family members by initiating tracing request. Taking into account that migrants are staying in detention centers for short period of time, the most useful tools are those that enable family members to connect as quickly as possible (e.g. to restore and maintain family contact - distributing phone cards). In the case of family separation, beneficiaries can initiate tracing request during the regular visit of the Red Cross staff to the centers. During the tracing procedure Croatian Red Cross Tracing Service is contacting international RFL network (national Red Cross and Red Crescent societies or the International Committee of the Red Cross),

			if the separation occurred in other countries, or Ministry of Interior if place of disappearance/separation took the place in Croatia. Croatian Red Cross is providing different activities in reception centers for asylum seekers (2 centers). RFL activities provided in reception centers are, as well, focused on promotion of the RFL activities and information on measures with aim to prevent family separation, restoring and maintaining contact between separated family members and searching for family members by initiating tracing request. For restoring and maintaining family contact RFL staff is offering phone calls or assisting in using web apps. As well RFL staff is working on promotion of the tool "Trace the Face" for families who have lost contact with their relatives somewhere within or on their way to Europe. 3. Migrants, those who are irregularly entering Croatia, are mostly just passing through the country on their way to the Western European countries, trying to stay "invisible" during their journey, which limits the access and use of the traditional RFL tools. In the case of the separation, from our experience, migrants will open tracing requests when they reach the country of desired destination. Example of good practice is that Croatian Red Cross has regular access to the detention centers and good cooperation with the management and personnel of the center, focused on assisting the beneficiaries. Likewise, in the case of the tracing requests received from other national societies Croatian Red Cross can check at the Ministry of Interior (in charge of the registration of migrants in Croatia) data related to the traced persons. 4. 	Luxembourg		2. "Restoring Family Links" (Service de Rétablissement des Liens Familiaux) is a service provided by the Luxembourgish Red Cross that can help migrants and refugees with tracking family members abroad. It applies to irregular migrants that are in detention and even is available for Luxembourgish nationals who are looking for lost family members. When the Luxembourgish Red Cross receives a request for tracing, it will launch the search by using its international network of national Red Cross and Red Crescent societies or by contacting the International Committee of the Red Cross. The latter is generally contacted for a search in a country affected by war or by internal conflict. Applicants who wish to trace a family member can make a request for tracing to the Red Cross. The Luxembourgish Red Cross informs the individual having applied for family tracing of the results of its investigation. 3. The only problem is to keep the contact with the third country national if s/he is returned. One of the good practices is that the Luxembourgish Red Cross has easy access to the detention center so it can be in constant contact with the applicant. 4. No.

In principle, detainees are not likely to demand these services, since they are in detention in order to leave the country. On the other hand, migrants having just arrived on Spanish soil normally have other priorities to be required from the Red Cross, such as medical assistance. The Restoring Family Links program is more likely to be used in assistance centres for migrants, where integration is worked upon.
